CEO, the umbrella. Coherence, capital, and the unblocks.

The seat that owns the whole board: strategy and the final voice after everyone is heard, the fundraise, the operating cadence, and the cross-entity calls nobody else can make. The trade for that control is written down: everyone's lanes are theirs without interference, the gates cut both ways including against this seat, and if the number is missed on December 31, the table convenes on the CEO first.

$80K

salary today, deliberately under market · seed CEO band ~$130–155K at the $2.0M gate or the raise

40%

of Rollup, founder common, 4-year vest with credit for time served

5% → 14%

of the services umbrella: 5% at signing, the rest earned at company gates

Loans

fronted capital papered as founder loans, never converted to points

1 · THE POSITION

Everyone heard, one decider. The metric is coherence, capital, and the unblocks.

OWNS

- Company strategy and the final voice after everyone is heard · pace and direction
- The fundraise and the investor lane, end to end
- Product management with Kayden · Terry's relationship and migration to 100%
- Co-sells every flagship with Shideler · leads strategic CPA relationships
- Architects the inbound accounting-lead motion with Kayden and Jared, handing to Zac and Brad as it goes live
- Cross-entity disputes · the operating cadence · pulls the Friday metrics (Stripe, Mercury, Ramp, HubSpot, Karbon, Linear, PostHog)

DOES NOT OWN, AND SHOULD BE TOLD SO WHEN FOUND IN THE LANE UNINVITED

- Delivery. Jared's, at the 11/10 standard
- Engineering trade-offs. Kayden's
- The pipelines. Sales pipeline is Shideler's; services capacity is Jared's

The standing rule from the alignment doc, applied to this seat first: "If I'm in your lane uninvited, say so."

2 · CASH COMPENSATION

Under the seed band on purpose, with the gap written down.

LAYER	TERMS
Salary · $80K	Deliberately below the seed CEO band (Kruze 2026: seed average $153K, Series A $203K). The gap between actual and market pay is recorded every quarter, so it is owed, not forgotten.
True-up	Fronted rent, Tekkii capital, foregone rent, insurance licenses and costs: papered as founder loans and reimbursable expenses with counsel, repaid on the subordinated schedule ahead of distributions. Clean books before any raise.
The $2.0M gate	Hit the target and three things happen at once: the cash bonus pool pays, salary steps to the seed band (~$130–155K), and the first umbrella rung vests. One number, three payouts.
Profit sharing	Pinned, deliberately. Reinvest first, hold a reserve, then share; negotiated at a dedicated session once there is profit worth arguing about.

3 · THE FULL EQUITY POSITION

40% of the product company. A founder's ladder in the services umbrella.

HOLDING	WHERE	TERMS
40%	Rollup, the product company	Founder common. Goes on the same 4-year vest, with credit for time served, as Kayden's: the two founders hold themselves to the standard everyone else signs.
5% → 14%	Services umbrella	5% starter at signing, one-year vest. Rungs at the company gates: +3% at $2.0M · +4% at $3M · +3% at $6M blended collected ARR, ceiling 15% earned minus the 1 point that funds Kayden's stake = 14%. Personal keys: line 1 revenue-positive plus the brand playbook documented at the first rung, then the brand channel producing on the rungs above.
Loans	Fronted capital	Papered as founder loans, never points. The discipline announced in the room as applying to this seat first.

Who funds whom, and the vesting standard

Kayden funds all three umbrella ladders through Rollup's earn-down from 100% to the 51% floor. Taylor, Jared and Shideler each trim one umbrella point to fund Kayden's direct stake. Both founders pre-funded the Rollup pool that pays both 5% role paths. Every grant is an exchange, not a gift. Vesting on everything: milestone + 4-year time vest with credit for time served · 1-year cliff · double-trigger acceleration · missed quarters delay, never forfeit · vested is yours forever. Rollup's voting control never moves; its economic share steps down if it misses its quarterly obligations to Services.

4 · WHAT THE POSITION IS WORTH

The same scenario math as everyone else at the table.

SCENARIO	POSITION VALUE	WHAT HAS TO BE TRUE
The floor	~$16M	$6M of revenue, but the platform multiple never earned: services trades at services multiples
The thesis	~$26M	Same revenue, margin at ~65%, product at half the mix, the blended 12–18× earned
The bar	~$70–90M	Haven/Delightree pace applied to our base: ~$19M by 2029

Illustrative, from the internal value bridge: layered arm → umbrella → Rollup waterfall, sum-checked. Fundraising scenarios dilute the Rollup side only (one round ~×0.9, two rounds ~×0.73); the umbrella ladder is untouched by product raises. Not a valuation, a shared way of seeing the same future.

5 · THE CADENCE, AND THE ACCOUNTABILITY THAT RUNS AT THIS SEAT FIRST

Control of direction and pace, paid for in accountability.

Daily	Standup: Matt, Kayden, Taylor, Shideler, Jared
Friday	Metrics pulled before the meeting (Stripe, Mercury, Ramp, HubSpot, Karbon, Linear, PostHog) · recap against the numbers · next week's priorities · the two raving-fan boards
Monthly · 90 min	The four leads: what's falling off, what changes, said at the month mark rather than year-end
Quarterly	Commissions on MRR · tranche check · scorecards re-signed · the salary gap recorded

If December 31 arrives and the company is nowhere near $2.0M, the table convenes on this seat first, with the data on the table: what was decided, what was resourced, what was unblocked and what wasn't. The decider is accountable for the deciding.
